Wisconsin law provides victims of crime with special rights.

The Wisconsin Constitution (Article I, Section 9m) and Wis. Stat. Chapter 950 give special rights to victims of crime. Some rights are automatic while others must be requested. The rights are listed on the reverse side of this form. Use the information on this form to discuss and clarify your rights with agencies you are in contact with about the case and to make your interests known.

Important Reminders for Victims of Crime:

- The Wisconsin Department of Justice Victim Resource Center can provide you with information about support groups and victim service organizations in your area (call 1-800-446-6564). A directory of services is also available at: www.doj.state.wi.us/cvs.
- If you are threatened or intimidated by anyone because of your cooperation with law enforcement and prosecution in connection with this crime, you should make a report to the investigating agency. If you feel you are in immediate danger, call 9-1-1.
- It is very important that you keep agencies informed of any changes to your address or phone number.
- It may be helpful to you to keep records of expenses related to the crime (such as lost wages, repairs or medical bills). You may be eligible for crime victims' compensation or restitution may be ordered if someone is convicted of the crime against you. You may be required to provide this information to support your claim.

Wisconsin Crime Victim Compensation Program

You may be eligible to receive reimbursement for certain expenses related to the crime even if no one is arrested or convicted. To learn more and to obtain a crime victim compensation claim form, contact the Wisconsin Department of Justice at 1-800-446-6564 or P.O. Box 7951, Madison, WI, 53707-7951 or online at: www.doj.state.wi.us/cvs.
