Household income determines whether a family is eligible for reduced price or free meals. The school meals must meet USDA nutrition requirements.

The WIC-Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infant, and Children
(WIC) has an income eligibility limit, 185% of the official poverty level.
Pregnant & nursing women, infants, and children under age 5 who qualify receive health screenings, nutrition education, & supplemental foods each month.

WIC Farmer’s Market Nutrition Program

WIC participants may choose to support Wisconsin farmers by using Farmer’s Market checks (given by WIC) to purchase Wisconsin grown produce and herbs. WIC approved vendors accept the checks from June 1st thru October 31st. Ask about these checks at your next WIC appointment.
